Taylor also of Nashville, Tennessee, have this day bargained, sold, transferred and conveyed to the said H. G. Drennan the following personal property, to-wit: my saloon and all saloon fixtures, located on Bass Street in Edgefield in East Nashville, and also the stock of Tobacco therein, my restaurant and all restaurant fixtures located at the same place, but it is understood that I hereby convey only the interest which I may have in and to the two above now in the saloon and restaurant above mentioned. I also hereby transfer to said Drennan all rental interests I may have in and to the premises above mentioned, together with the good will of the trade. Of the consideration above mentioned, Two Hundred and Seventy Five have this day been paid in cash, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and for the balance, (Sixty Eight Dollars and Sixty cents) the said Drennan has this day executed his promissory note payable to the order of Thomas Taylor on or before Dec 4th 1889; To secure the payment of said note a lien is hereby expressly retained on all of said property herein conveyed until said note is paid in full. To have and to hold said property to the said H. G. Drennan, his heirs and assigns forever. I covenant that I am lawfully seized and possessed of said property, have and good and perfect right to sell and convey the same, and that the title thereto is wholly unincumbered. I covenant and bind myself, my heirs and assigns to warrant and forever defend the title to the said property to the said H. G. Drennan, against the lawful claims of all persons whomsoever. Witness my hand, this the 2nd day of December 1889.
