John Lewis Exr. to Union Trust Co. Ext. Union Trust Co.

Whereas on the 28th of May 1888 the undersigned John Lewis borrowed of the Union Trust Company, a corporation existing under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, the sum of $10000, and gave therefor his promissory note for that amount, dated of that date and due three years after date, and to secure the same executed a deed of trust conveying to a Trustee a piece of real estate situated on the Southwest corner of McGavock and Vauxhall Streets, in the City of Nashville Davidson County Tennessee fronting 81½ feet on the West side Vauxhall Street and running back between parallel lines on McGavock Street 177 feet, all of which is more specifically set forth in said deed of trust registered in Register's Office of said County, Book No. 111 page 601, to which reference is here made. And Whereas the time for the payment of said loan has been extended from time to time by written agreements between the parties, registered in said Register's Office the last extension being one registered in said Office Book No. 216 page 345, extending the time of said payment to May 28th 1898: and Whereas by agreement between said Union Trust Company and said John Lewis, the time of payment of said loan has been again extended to the 28th of May 1899. and said Lewis has executed his two interest notes for $300.00 each, dated May 28th 1898. One due six months and the other twelve months after date. Now, therefore in order to make more effectual the lien of the original deed of trust continued by the various extension agreements, it is hereby agreed that all of the provisions of said original instrument shall apply to the loan as hereby extended and to the said new interest notes so far as applicable to the same extent and to the same purpose and effect as though the original loan had matured May 28th 1899. and as though said new interest notes had been part of the original interest notes and expressly secured by said original instrument. Should said Lewis fail to pay any one of the said new interest notes at maturity in which case the note for the principal at the option of said Union Trust Company, shall at once become due and payable, notwithstanding the time of payment or should said Lewis fail to pay the note for the principal in the City of Nashville the Office of said Company on the 28th day of May 1899, then the Union Bank & Trust Company the present Trustee under said deed of trust shall have all the powers of sale, entry & conveyance vested in the original Trustee for the purpose of enforcing the collections of said loan and in short shall be vested with all the powers and subject to all the duties as to the extended loan as those imposed upon said original Trustee, and the rights and powers of said Union Trust Company and its Successor in interest shall be the same as to the same as to the extended loan as those possessed by it as to the original loan; and if possible to make more effectual this continuance of their powers and duties as to the extended loan, the said John Lewis and wife do hereby bargain, sell, confirm and convey to and in said Union Bank & Trust Company the title to the property hereinbefore referred to. In testimony of the foregoing the said John Lewis and wife have hereunto subscribed their names, this the 5 day of May 1898.
