ARCHITECTURAL CONTROL AGREEMENT. No owner of any lot shall modify the structure on his or her lot by adding, a room or rooms, changing the roof lines, adding decks, materially changing or altering the color or making other alterations in the exterior appearance of the structure without the express written approval of the adjacent record lot owner. Each owner, in acquiring title to his or her respective lot, acknowledges that the decor, color scheme and design have been selected in such a manner to be consistent and harmonious with other homes within the subdivision and agree to maintain his or her respective lot and structure in such manner as to maintain and perpetuate the visual harmony within the subdivision.

Each owner shall keep his or her lot andthe structure thereon in good order and repair including but not limited to the seeding, watering and mowing of all laws, the pruning and cutting all trees and shrubbery and the painting (or other appropriate external care) of the structure all in a manner and with such frequency as is consistent with good property management.

In the event of total destruction, the Owner shall promptly clear the lot of debris and leave the same in a neat and orderly condition. Within 60 days of any insurance settlement, the owner must commence to rebuild and reconstruction shall be accomplished in conformity with the plans and specifications of the original structure so destroyed.

If the correction of a maintenance or repair problem incurred in the dwelling unit on one lot necessitates construction work or access on the dwelling unit of the other lot, either lot owner shall have an easement on the property of the other for the purpose of this construction. Each party shall contribute to the cost of restoration thereof in proportion to such use without prejudice, however, to the right of any such owner to call for a larger contribution from the others under any rule or law requiring liability for negligent or willful acts or omissions.
