I, Grace New Goss, of Atlanta, in the County of Fulton and State of Georgia, being of sound mind and memory, and considering the uncertainty of this life, do therefore make, ordain, publish and declare this to be my last WILL and TESTAMENT:

I devise and bequeath unto my husband, George Leonard Goss, all my property in fee simple, both real and personal of any nature whatsoever, to be used by him as he may see fit for the maintenance, education or benefit of himself and my child or children then living as the case may be. If my husband George be not living at my death, I desire that my daughter, Gail Goss and any other child or children of mine then living, shall take such interest as would pass to my husband, George, in his life.

Further, I make, constitute and appoint my husband, George, sole guardian of my minor child or children and Executor of this, my last Will and Testament, to act without bond, hereby revoking all former wills by me made.
