LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

JOHNNY L. PATTON

BOOK 7818 PAGE 195

I, JOHNNY L. PATTON, of Nashville, Davidson County, Tennessee, being of sound mind and disposing memory, hereby make, declare, and publish this to be my Last Will and Testament, hereby revoking any Wills or Codicils heretofore by me at any time made.

I.

I direct that my Executrix, hereinafter named, pay all of my just debts, including the expenses of my last illness, funeral expenses, and inheritance taxes, if any, as soon as practical after my death.

II.

I hereby name, nominate and appoint my wife, Alice Faye Patton, as the Executrix of my estate, and I expressly excuse her from making bond.

III.

I hereby give, devise, and bequeath all of my property which I own at the time of my death to my wife, Alice Faye Patton, including real property, personal property, and/or mixed property.

IV.

In the event my wife, Alice Faye Patton, should predecease me, and in that event only, then I hereby give, devise, and bequeath all of my property to my brother, Luther W. Patton.

nominating him as the Executor of my estate, and expressly excusing him from making bond.

V.

In the event my wife, Alice Faye Patton, should predecease me and my brother, Luther W. Patton, should likewise predecease me, then I hereby give, devise, and bequeath all of my property to my great nephew and nieces, Charles L. Adams, Kimberly Patton, and Elizabeth Ann Patton, and likewise excuse them from making bond.

VI.

In the event my wife, Alice Faye Patton, and myself should both die in a common disaster, or simultaneously, or within 30 days of each other, then I hereby appoint my brother, Luther W. Patton, as the Executor of my estate, directing that he pay all of my just debts, expenses of my last illness, and funeral expenses, as well as, inheritance taxes, if any, as soon as practical after my death, and I expressly excuse him from making bond.

VII.

In the event of this contingency, I hereby give, devise, and bequeath all of the jewelry and personal clothing of my wife, Alice Faye Patton, to Linda Kaye Hooper, and I give, devise, and bequeath all of the rest and remainder of my estate in the event of this contingency equally to Luther W. Patton, Linda Kaye Hooper, Yvonne Hamlett, and Charles Adams.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and seal to this my Last Will and Testament at Nashville, Davidson County, Tennessee this 11 day of April, 1984.
