LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

OF

IVY MOZELLE WAKEFIELD

I, Ivy Mozelle Wakefield, being of sound mind and disposing memory, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be my last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills and codicils by me at any time heretofore made.

I.

I direct that all my just debts, including my funeral expenses be first paid by my Executor out of any funds or property coming into his hands as such Executor as soon after my demise as conveniently may be.

II.

In the event my husband and I die at the same time, simultaneously, or in a single disaster with me, or under circumstances that it is apparently impossible to determine who died first, it will be presumed that he predeceased me.

III.

I give, devise and bequeath unto my beloved husband, Edward Newton Wakefield, all my property of whatever description, and wherever same may be found, of which I might be seized and possessed of at the time of my decease, in fee simple title and absolutely, if living, otherwise to Charles Edward Wakefield, son.

IV.

I nominate, constitute and appoint my son, Charles Edward Wakefield, Executor of this my last will and testament and I direct that my said Executor shall serve without bond or security.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my signature, this 4 day of March, 1974, by placing my mark on both of the two pages of this my last will and testament the same having been read to me and approved by me in the presence of witnesses.
