ITEM IV
ALTERNATE DISPOSITION

All the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, real, personal and mixed, of every nature and wheresoever situated, including lapsed legacies and devises, remainders, reversions, expectancies, income collected during the period of administration of my estate and all property of which I have power of testamentary disposition, control or appointment, I give, devise and bequeath to the following named persons who survive me:

To my son, Larry Chandler, fifty (50%) percent.

This power of encroachment upon the corpus of this trust is a continuing power for the duration of this trust.

3. It is my desire that the income from this trust and so much of the corpus as is necessary, be used to guarantee adequate maintenance of my grandson. For this purpose I direct that my trustees accumulate the income from the trust, or encroach upon the corpus as aforesaid, and make payments to or for the benefit of my grandson in such amounts and at such times as the trustees, in their sole discretion may deem to be for the best interest of my grandson.

4. I direct that the assets of this trust, whether principal or income, while in the hands of my trustees, or either of them, shall not be anticipated, alienated, or in any other manner assigned or transferred by my grandson, and such shall be for the sole and separate use of my grandson and shall be free and exempt from anticipation, execution, assignment, pledge, attachment, and other legal or equitable process which may be instituted by and on behalf of any creditor or assigns of my grandson.

5. 3. Delegation of Powers. Any trustee may, by written instrument, delegate some or all his powers to the remaining trustee for any period specified in the writing. During that period, or until the delegating trustee sooner gives written notice revoking the delegation, the remaining trustee may act as though the delegating trustee were deceased and had no successor. If the delegation is revoked before the stated period expires, the revocation will affect only those actions begun after the notice of revocation is actually received.
