Said Trustee shall provide such amounts from either principle or income as are required to maintain the beneficiaries' well-being. This includes, but is not limited to, the beneficiaries' health, medical or educational needs. The trust shall continue until each beneficiary reaches the age of twenty-five (25) years, at which time the beneficiary which has reached the age of twenty-five (25) years shall receive his or her one-half share of the trust and any interest earned thereon and the trust shall terminate when the youngest beneficiary reaches the age of twenty-five (25) and the remaining trust funds shall then be distributed to said beneficiary. No income or principal of this trust shall be subject to the claims of either child's creditors, including claims by governmental authorities, prior to the distribution of funds to the beneficiaries. In the event that either beneficiary dies before reaching the age of twenty-five (25) years, then the deceased share shall go to the surviving beneficiary. In the event that both of said beneficiaries should die before obtaining the age of twenty-five (25) years, then the trust shall dissolve and the corpus and all accumulative interest shall be given to the Trustee, Scott Weber, absolutely.
