FINAL ORDER OF DIVORCE

This cause came to be heard on the 2nd day of February, 2009, before the Honorable Carol Soloman, Judge of the Eighth Circuit Court for Davidson County, Tennessee upon the complaint for divorce filed on behalf of the Plaintiff, Alicia Galvan Giron and upon the motion for default judgment which was granted on the 12th day of December, 2008 as a result of the Defendant, Enrique Giron being duly noticed by publication of which said publication date is October 6, 2008 and it appearing to the Court based upon testimony of the Plaintiff, Alicia Galvan Giron and witnesses for the Plaintiff and further upon statements of counsel for the Plaintiff, that said divorce shall be granted and it is therefore, ORDERED, ADJUDGED and DECREED:

That the Plaintiff, Alicia Galvan Giron shall be and is hereby granted a divorce from the Defendant, Enrique Giron, on the grounds of Inappropriate Marital Conduct and Abandonment and Non-Support and the parties are hereby restored with all the rights and privileges of unmarried persons.

That the Plaintiff, Alicia Galvan Giron, is hereby awarded as her sole and separate property, the real property located at 907 Tamarack North, Madison, Tennessee 37115, free and clear of any claims of the Defendant, of which the Plaintiff testified that said real property is financed in her name and the Plaintiff's brother's names jointly. Further, the Defendant is hereby divested of any interest he may have in said real property as a result of this marriage and the Plaintiff is hereby reinvested with the same interest.

That the Plaintiff, Alicia Galvan Giron, is awarded as her sole and separate property, the personal property in her possession, free and clear of any claims of the Defendant.

That each of the parties are to be personally and individually responsible for the payment of all debts contracted for or incurred by either of them individually, either during the marriage or after the date of separation and each party shall hold the other party harmless for any liability related thereto. The Court finds that neither party shall in the future contract any indebtedness upon the credit of the other. If, in the future, either party shall be compelled to make payment on behalf of the other, then the party for whose benefit such payment shall have been made will indemnify the other to the full extent of the amount paid, inclusive of attorneys fees and court cost, such obligation shall be deemed to be a support obligation under Title 11 U.S.C.A. § 523(5), which is not dischargeable in bankruptcy as to the other party.

That based upon the statements of the Plaintiff, prior to the separation of the parties the Plaintiff was diagnosed with cancer and as a result she has incurred medical expenses and other expenses related to her support and maintenance and therefore the Court finds that retroactive support to be paid by Defendant on behalf of the Plaintiff, from the date of the separation of the parties to the date of the final hearing in this matter, is hereby reserved pending personal service being obtained on the Defendant.

That the Plaintiff is hereby restored to her maiden name of Alicia Galvan.

That the Plaintiff shall be responsible for her attorneys fees and Court costs incurred in this matter.

ENTERED this the 10th day of Feb., 2009.
