Last will and testament of Julia Elizabeth Lee Narramore

1. As he has done the maintenance to the property at 1112 Sunnymeade Dr., my son John Thomas is to be allowed to buy the property at forty per cent (40%) less than the appraised value if he wishes to; he will still receive ¼ of the proceeds. If he does not wish to buy it, it is to be sold and the proceeds to be divided equally to my children or their heirs if they (my CHILDREN) pre-decease me.

2. Any cash I have is to be divided equally among my children (or in the case of Anne) her daughters will receive 50% each of her ¼ share.

3. Kaye has already been given the bedroom furniture of her grandmother, Grace Lee. She is also to receive the bed-side table from my bedroom.

4. Tommy is to receive my cherry bedroom suite; also the mirror over the mantle and the desk/sewing machine cabinet which are re-finished. (His grandmother, Grace Lee had already given him her treadle sewing machine.)

See other side.

(my will)

5. To my granddaughter, born Amy Elizabeth Davis, my record collection and the my stereo set (she will need it to play the LPs on, as most of my jazz collection is on LPs).

6. To my granddaughter, born Laura Catherine Davis, my living room couch and the afghan room at the Parramore family reunion.

7. To my grandson, Patrick, my leaf blower and all my tools.

8. To my granddaughter, born Caitlin Elizabeth Parramore, the clock on the mantle, my sewing machine and sewing supplies, along will all my kitchen/cooking equipment.

9. Jerry has already been given the bud vase belonging to his grandparents, B.F. and Grace Billings Lee. He is also to receive the white and gold vases from the dining room.

10. To my dear son-in-law, William Richard Davis, Jr., the oblong mirror from the living room, which was given to me by him and Anne.

11. If I should have to go into a nursing home permanently, go ahead and distribute the ~~household~~ house-hold goods as indicated here-in.

12. Any possessions not listed to go the person choosing them (no fighting, please.)

COPY

13. To my grandson, Will, my TV set.

14. Anything remaining is to be discarded or given to a charitable organization.
