FINAL DECREE OF DIVORCE

This matter came to be heard on the 15th day of June, 2010 before the Honorable Philip E. Smith, Judge of the Fourth Circuit Court of Davidson County, Tennessee, upon the Complaint for Divorce filed by the Wife in this cause. Present in court were the Wife and her attorney of record, Connie Reguli and the Husband and his attorney of record, Stephanie J. Williams, along with the witness for the Wife. Based on statement of counsel, testimony of the parties, testimony of the witness for the Wife and the entire record in this cause, the Court finds as follws:

1. A Complaint for Divorce was filed by the Wife in this cause on March 31, 2008.
2. The Husband filed an Answer to the Wife's Complaint for Divorce on August 15, 2008.
3. The parties have been married eighteen (18) years as of the date of the final hearing. However, the parties separated in July of 2007 at which time the Wife moved to the state of California.
4. The parties have one (1) minor child born of the marriage, Beliana Moke, born July 21, 2005.
5. The Wife has not seen the minor child since she moved to California in 2007.
6. The grounds in the Complaint for Divorce alleged by the Wife were Irreconcilable Differences and Inappropriate Marital Conduct.

7. In the Husband's Answer, he asserted the affirmative defense the ill conduct of the Wife.

8. The Court has concerns with the credibility of both parties, specifically as it relates to the parties' testimony relative to Ruth Moke, both in this Court and in the Court of the State of California.

9. As such, as it relates to the divorce of the parties, pursuant to T.C.A. §36-4-129(b), the Court shall declare the parties divorced and restore each parties to the rights and privileges of an unmarried person.

10. As it relates to the parties' real property located at 3222 Lagrange Drive, Nashville, Davidson County, Tennessee 37218, based on stipulation of the parties the Court finds there is no equity in the home. Said real property shall be awarded to the Husband, free and clear of any claim of the Wife. The Wife shall be divested of all right, title and interest in said real property and the same shall be reinvested in the Husband. The Husband shall be responsible for all costs associated with the real property, including, but not limited to the timely payment of all taxes, homeowners insurance and the mortgage. The Husband shall refinance said real property within one hundred and thirty (130) days and shall hold the Wife harmless with all costs associated with said real property. The Husband shall further provide to the Wife documentation that he has refinanced said property within one hundred and thirty (130) days.

11. As it relates to the parties' 2002 Buick Rendezvous automobile, the Court finds that said automobile was repossessed and there is an approximate debt of $16,000.00 to Wells Fargo, associated with said automobile. The Husband shall be solely responsible for said indebtedness and any other debts associated with said vehicle.

12. As it relates to the furniture, furnishings and other personal property of the parties, each party shall be awarded that which is in their respective possession free and clear of any claim of the other party. Each party shall be awarded all right, title and interest in said property, free and clear of any claim of the other party.

13. In regard to the Parenting Plan, the Court finds that the earning ability and capacity of each party is $21,000.00 per year and the same shall be used in calculating child support under the Child Support Guidelines.

14. The testimony of the Wife regarding the relationship of Ruth Moke to the parties had very serious issues as to the believability of the Wife. The Wife testified that she never held Ruth out to be her daughter; however, in August of 2007, the Wife listed Ruth as a daughter in a sworn pleading filed in the Superior Court of California, which was used to get a Restraining Order against the Husband.

15. The Husband filed an Answer in this cause in which the Court relied on as a sworn pleading, wherein the Husband denied there was only one (1) minor child and stated there was another minor child of the children, specifically Ruth Moke.

16. Ruth is not the natural, biological, or legal child of the parties.

17. The Husband made it more difficult than necessary in regard to this matter, as throughout the proceeding, he led the Court to believe that Ruth was a biological child of the parties.

18. The Court has further concerns as it relates to the Husband's testimony of a recorded telephone conversation, wherein the Husband denies the voice on the call is his own. The Court does find that the voice on the call is that of the Husband. As such, the Court has concerns with the believability of the Husband's testimony.

19. Because of the Court's concern with the credibility of the parties, it is the undisputed allegations on which the Court must rely.

20. As such, as it relates to the testimony of the Wife regarding the domestic violence of the Husband, the Court can not rely on the testimony of either party and therefore, the Court can not use this as a factor in determining custody of the parties' minor child in this cause.

21. As it relates to the relocation of the Wife to California, the Court finds that T.C.A. §36-4-108 does not apply in this case, as the Wife was already residing in the state of California at the time of the filing of the divorce in this case.

22. Under T.C.A. §36-6-106, the court makes the following findings as to the custody of the minor child in this cause:

a. As it relates to factor number one (1), the love, affection and emotional ties existing between the parents of the child, based on the three (3) year absence of the Wife, the Court finds that this factor favors the Husband.

b. With respect to factor number two (2), the disposition of the parents to provide the child with food, clothing, medical care, education and other necessary care and the degree to which each parent has been the primary caregiver, the Court finds that this factor favors the Husband, as he has been the primary caregiver of the parties' minor child since the separation of the parties.

c. With respect to the third factor, the importance of continuity in the child's life and the length of time the child has lived in a stable, satisfactory environment, the Court finds this favors the Husband.

d. With respect to factor number four (4), the stability of the family unit of the parents, the Court finds that the Wife does not have a family unit in California, other than her cousin, and resides by herself; whereas the Husband does have a family unit here with the minor child and Ruth and that Ruth has been of valuable assistance to the Husband with respect to the minor child and; therefore, the Court finds that this factor favors the Husband.

e. With respect to factor number five (5), there was no testimony with respect to the mental and physical health of the parents; therefore, this factor as not applicable.

f. With respect to factor number six (6), the home, school and community record of the child, the Court finds that this provision is not applicable as there was no substantial proof on this matter.

g. With respect to factor number seven (7), the reasonable preference of a child, if twelve (12) years of age or older, the minor child is under the age of twelve (12) and the Court did not hear testimony from the minor child; therefore, the Court finds that this factor is not applicable.

h. With respect to factor number eight (8), evidence of physical or emotional abuse to the child, other parent or any other person, this is a factor relied heavily on the Wife. As stated previously, the Court has concerns with the credibility of the parties and could not decipher the untruthfulness of either party when testifying about the alleged abused; therefore, the Court can not make a finding that there is any evidence of abuse and subsequently renders this factor not applicable.

i. With respect to factor number nine (9), the character and behavior of any other person who resides in or frequents the home of a parent or caregiver and the person's interactions with the child, there has been no proof related to this factor; therefore, the Court finds that this factor is not applicable.

j. Lastly, with respect to factor number ten (10), each parent's past and potential for future performance of parenting responsibilities, including the willingness and ability of each of the parents to facilitate and encourage a close and continuing parent-child relationship between the child and both of the child's parents, consistent to the best interest of the child, the Court finds that this factor favors the Mother.

23. Having made the following findings in accordance with T.C.A. §36-6-106, the Court finds that it is in the best interest of the minor child, Beliana Moke, to be placed with the Father and that the attached Parenting Plan shall be adopted and made an Order of this Court.

24. The Court finds that the attorney's fees of the Wife are reasonable; however, that neither party has the financial ability to pay the other's attorney's fees. Therefore, each party shall be responsible for their respective attorney's fees in this cause.

25. The parties shall equally be responsible for court costs, for which execution may issue if necessary.
