Article Two: Specific and General Gifts

Section 2.01 Disposition of Tangible Personal Property by Memorandum

I give all my tangible personal property, together with any insurance policies covering such property and claims under such policies in accordance with a "Memorandum for Distribution of Personal Property" or other similar writing directing the disposition of such property, which shall be dated and signed by me.

I give any tangible personal property not disposed of by a written memorandum, or if I choose not to leave a written memorandum, according to Article Three, Residuary Estate.

Article Three: My Residuary Estate

My Personal Representative shall distribute my residuary estate outright to my daughter, Brenda Barden. If Brenda Barden has predeceased me, my Personal Representative shall distribute my residuary estate fifty percent to Tracy J. Wright or her descendants and fifty percent to Leroy F. Barden IV or his descendants. If Tracy J. Wright or Leroy F. Barden predeceases me leaving no descendants, his or her share shall be distributed to the other named beneficiary

If, at any time, there is no person or entity qualified to receive final distribution of my residuary estate then my Personal Representative shall distribute my estate to my heirs at law.

Section 5.02 Distributions to Disabled Persons, Incapacitated Persons, and Persons Under Twenty-Five Years of Age

If my Fiduciary is directed to distribute any share of my estate to a beneficiary who is under the age of 25 years or is in the opinion of my Fiduciary, under any form of disability or incapacity that renders the beneficiary unable to administer distributions properly when the distribution is to be made, and if no other trust is then to be held under my will for the beneficiary's primary benefit, my Fiduciary may, as Trustee, in my Fiduciary's discretion, continue to hold the beneficiary's share as a separate trust until the beneficiary reaches the age of 25 or overcomes the disability or incapacity. When the beneficiary reaches the age of 25 or overcomes the disability or incapacity, my Fiduciary shall distribute the beneficiary's trust to him or her, outright free of trust.

While any trust is being held under this Section, my Trustee shall pay to the beneficiary for whom the trust is held such amounts of the net income and principal as my Trustee determines to be necessary or advisable for any purpose, except if the following paragraph applies.

If my beneficiary is disabled and is qualified, or in the opinion of the Fiduciary is likely to become qualified, for means-based governmental benefits, my Trustee shall hold the share of my beneficiary in a third-party Special Needs Trust, from which my Trustee, in his or her sole and absolute discretion, may distribute discretionary amounts of net income and principal for special needs of my beneficiary not otherwise provided by governmental financial assistance and benefits, or by the providers of services. "Special needs" refers to the requisites for maintaining the good health, safety, and welfare of my beneficiary when, in the discretion of my Trustee, such requisites are not being provided by any public agency, office, or department of any state or of the United States. "Special needs" shall also include, but not be limited to, medical and dental expenses, annual independent checkups, clothing and equipment, programs of training, education, treatment and rehabilitation, private residential care, transportation (including vehicle purchases), maintenance, insurance, and essential dietary needs. "Special needs" may include spending money; additional food; clothing; electronic equipment such as radio, recording and playback, television and computer equipment; vacations; movies; trips; entertainment events; and small amounts of money to purchase appropriate gifts for relatives and friends. My Trustee shall have no obligation to expend trust assets for such needs, but if my Trustee, in his or her sole and absolute discretion, decides to expend trust assets, under no circumstances should any amounts be paid to, or reimbursed to, the federal government, any state, or any governmental agency for any purpose, including for the care, support, and maintenance of my beneficiary.

Upon the death of the beneficiary before that time, the Trustee shall distribute the trust, including any accrued and undistributed income, to such persons as such beneficiary may appoint by his or her will, excluding the beneficiary's estate, the beneficiary's creditors, or the creditors of the beneficiary's estate. To the extent this limited power of appointment is not exercised, on the death of the beneficiary, the trust property shall be distributed to the beneficiary's descendants, per stirpes, or, if none, to my other residuary beneficiaries named in Article Three per stirpes.
