FINAL DECREE OF DIVORCE

This cause came before the Court for a final hearing on Wednesday, September 14, 2022 before the Honorable Muriel Robinson upon a default judgment entered on behalf of the Plaintiff, Holly Kalemeris Hardisty (herein after referred to as "Wife") on August 25, 2022. Present before the Court were Wife, Counsel for Wife Patricia T. McCarter and Austin V. Knapp, Wife's sister Kristen Madison, and Wife's Father George D. Kalemeris, M.D. Defendant, Brock Michael Hardisty (hereinafter referred to as "Husband") did not appear. Based upon the arguments of counsel, the testimony of the Wife, the testimony of Wife's sister, the testimony of Wife's father, the proof submitted and the record as a whole, this Court finds that Mother shall be granted an absolute divorce from Husband on the grounds of inappropriate marital conduct.

The Court further finds as follows:

A Motion to Withdraw filed by Counsel for Husband came before the Court on July 29, 2022 providing Husband 15 days to obtain new counsel or proceed pro se. The Motion for Sanctions and Motion for Psychological Evaluation were continued and came before the court on August 19, 2022. Husband did not appear. By Order entered on August 25, 2022, this Honorable Court found that sanctions were appropriate and struck Husband's Answer and Husband's Counter Complaint and further entered a default judgment in favor of Wife. On the date of trial, Husband did not appear, having been properly noticed, and has no standing before the Court as a result of his own actions.

The Court finds Wife has performed most of the parenting responsibilities for the children since their birth and she has been the parent who has provided the children with food, clothing, medical care, education and other necessary care. The Court also finds Wife pays $158.00 per month to cover the children's healthcare premium and $2,485.71 per month for work related childcare and Husband has not provided any child support to Wife since the date of separation. The Court further finds Wife has completed the court ordered parenting seminar and Husband has not completed the court ordered parenting seminar and Father had knowledge that the case was set for final hearing on September 14, 2022 and did not appear.

The Court finds that Husband has no standing before this Honorable Court as a result of his own actions, specifically, his failure to appear for his deposition and failure to appear at motion hearings, which resulted in his pleadings being stricken and a default judgment being entered against him in favor of Wife. Moreover, Husband failed to appear for the final hearing. Accordingly, under the facts and circumstances of this case and based on the testimony of Wife, testimony of the witnesses, the proof at trial and the record as a whole, the Court finds the following division of property to be fair and equitable and the attached parenting plan to be in the best interests of the minor children.
