LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

This is the last will and testament of Carolyn King Forrister Maddux, made this 17th day of February, 23 and revokes any other wills made heretofore by me.

I appoint my son, Bradford Forrister, as the executor of my estate and trustee of the trust created by this will. If he should predecease me or shall, for any reason, fail to qualify or cease to act in either capacity, I appoint my son, Dirk Forrister, to serve as successor executor and/or trustee. The executor and trustee shall serve without bond, and I hereby waive the necessity of preparing or filing any inventory, accounting, appraisal, reporting, or final appraisement of my estate.

I bequeath my diamond ring and my wedding band, both now located in my safe deposit box at SunTrust Bank, to my daughter Vallena Forrister My other personal effects that were my separate property before my marriage are to be divided between my five natural children, including my silver, china, and furniture. If my husband Frank Maddux predeceases me, any personal effects that were his separate property and were not distributed in accordance with his will shall be divided between his three natural children. All personal property that was obtained during our marriage shall be divided among our eight children or disposed of as part of the estate. Division of all personal property in accordance with these instructions is left to the discretion of the executor.

Any automobiles owned by me at my death may be disposed of as part of the estate

I direct that any debts or taxes, including death expenses, be paid from the proceeds of any insurance policies on my life and any amounts held by me in financial institutions

I direct that the entire residue of my estate, including any real estate owned by me at my death, be placed in a trust. The beneficiary of this trust, during his lifetime, shall be my husband, Frank Maddux. I direct that the trustee hold the assets of the trust for the use and benefit of Frank Maddux for the purpose of providing for his health and welfare, as necessary, to the extent that expenses for his care may exceed benefits and other sources of income that he may have The trustee may make such distributions as often or as seldom as he may determine in his sole discretion without the necessity of any court authority or approval.

Following the death of the principal beneficiary, Frank Maddux, or from my death if he should predecease me, the trust may continue in existence at the discretion of the trustee until such time as it is expedient to liquidate it, but in no case beyond the death of the last of the residual beneficiaries.

The residual beneficiaries of the trust are my five natural children, Verner Kimble Forrister, Bradford Nelson Forrister, Derrick Lloyd Forrister, Skylar Stuart Forrister and Vallena Carol Forrister; my three stepchildren, James Robert Maddux, Frank Tillman Maddux Jr., and Mark Vincent Maddux Sr ; and Beverly Byram. If any of my natural children or my stepchildren should die before me, or before the trust is liquidated, their share shall go to their children per stirpes. Because Beverly Byram's children are entitled to the share of Frank Tillman Maddux Jr., her share will not survive her.

I direct that if any beneficiaries are indebted to me at the time of my death, that indebtedness shall be deducted from the beneficiary's share in the estate.

I direct my executor to take all actions legally permissible to have the probate of my will done as simply and as free of court supervision as possible under the laws of the state of Tennessee, or any other state having jurisdiction over this will, including filing a petition in the appropriate court for the independent administration of my estate.

I grant to my executor the following powers, to be exercised as he deems to be in the best interests of my estate:

1. To retain property without liability for loss or depreciation.

2. To dispose of property by public or private sale, or exchange, or otherwise, and receive and administer the proceeds as a part of my estate.

3. To lease any real property in my estate.

4. To abandon, adjust, arbitrate, compromise, sue on or defend and otherwise deal with and settle claims in favor of or against my estate.

These powers, authority and discretion are intended to be in addition to the powers, authority and discretion vested in him by operation of law by virtue of his office, and may be exercised as often as is deemed necessary or advisable, without application to or approval by any court.

If any part of this will shall be declared invalid, illegal, or inoperative, it is my intent that the remaining parts shall be effective.

(This is the end of the second page of my will.)
