LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

OF PATRICIA C. SMITH

ARTICLE I: OVERTURE

I, PATRICIA C. SMITH, a resident of Davidson County, Tennessee, declare this to be my Will, and I revoke any and all wills and codicils previously made by me.

I am married to GENE H. SMITH and I have two children, DANIEL G. SMITH and RHONDA S. GENTRY.

ARTICLE II: APPOINTMENT OF FIDUCIARIES

Executors. I appoint my husband, GENE H. SMITH, as Executor of my Will, to serve without bond. If my husband is unwilling or unable to serve at any time as Executor, I appoint my attorney, RONALD H. BICE, JR., also without bond. I grant my Executor power to sell any or all of my assets at public or private sale as my Executor in his sole discretion may determine.

Trustees. I appoint my husband, GENE H. SMITH and my attorney, RONALD H. BICE, JR., to serve as Co-Trustees of the Family Trust and Marital Trust created herein. In the event any of the Trustees herein named should predecease me, or should any of them for any reason be unwilling or unable to serve at any time, the remaining Trustee shall serve as sole Trustee of the Trusts created herein also without bond. I empower my Trustee to appoint his successor, also without bond, should my Trustee be unable to serve.

ARTICLE III: DISPOSITION OF PERSONAL PROPERTY

Personal Property. I give to my husband all of my personal and household effects, including automobiles, furniture, jewelry, clothing, and similar personal property, together with all policies of insurance on such personal property.

Should my husband predecease me, I give my aforementioned personal property to my living children in equal shares, per stirpes, as they shall agree. My Executor is authorized to take the joint receipt on behalf of my children for this bequest, and he shall not be required to see to the division among them. However, in the event my children are unable to agree on a division of my personal property, my Executor shall be responsible for dividing such property among my children; and the decision of my Executor in this regard shall be final and binding on all concerned.

The reasonable cost of packing, shipping and storing such personal property shall be charged against my estate as an expense of administration.

ARTICLE IV: DISPOSITION OF RESIDUARY ESTATE

Residuary Estate to Family and Marital Trusts. In the event my husband, GENE H. SMITH, survives me, I give the entire residue of my estate, including property of every kind which I may own or have an interest in at the time of my death, real, personal or mixed and wherever situated, together with the proceeds of any policies of insurance on my life which may be payable to my estate, to the Trustees, to be divided into two separate trusts designated as the Family Trust and the Marital Trust.

Shares of Family Trust and Marital Trust. The Family Trust shall be comprised of a fractional share of my residuary estate as follows:

(i) The numerator of the fraction shall be a sum equal the largest amount, if any, that can pass free of federal estate tax under this Will by reason of the unified credit and the state death tax credit (provided use of the state death tax credit does not require an increase of the state death taxes paid) allowable to my estate, but no other credit, and after taking account of dispositions under previous Articles of this Will and property passing outside of this Will which do not qualify for the marital or charitable deductions, and after taking account of all charges to principal that are not allowed as deductions in computing my federal estate tax; and

(ii) The denominator of the fraction shall be the value of my residuary estate.

I direct that for the purpose of establishing such fraction the values finally fixed in the federal estate tax proceeding relating to my estate shall be used. I recognize that the numerator of such fraction may be zero, in which case no property shall pass under this paragraph, and that the numerator may be affected by the action of my Executor in exercising certain tax elections.

The Marital Trust shall be comprised of the remaining fraction of my residuary estate, or all thereof if no property passes to the Family Trust pursuant to the preceding paragraph of this Article.

In the event my husband predeceases me, I give the entire residue of my estate, as defined above, to the Trustees of the Family Trust, to be administered in accordance with the terms set forth below.

Discretion to Combine Trusts. Upon the death of my husband, or upon my death if he predeceases me, if my husband in his will has established a trust similar to the Family Trust created herein for the benefit of our family, the Trustees, in their discretion, may terminate this trust and cause its principal and accumulated income to pour-over into the trust established by my husband as an additional contribution to be used in accordance with that trust's provisions. In exercising their discretion, the Trustees shall consider primarily whether the trust established by my husband has substantially the same purpose and beneficiaries as this trust and would be compatible with my intent and purposes in establishing this trust, as well as any adverse income tax consequences in combining these trusts, rather than maintaining separate trusts as separate taxable entities. However, in no event shall any funds from the trust herein created be used for the payment of any taxes, debts, or other expenses associated with the administration of my husband's estate.

ARTICLE V: PROVISIONS FOR FAMILY TRUST

The Family Trust shall be administered in accordance with the following special provisions:

1. Purpose of Trust. In establishing this trust, I give my Trustees broad discretionary powers to distribute income and principal among my husband and my children. My purpose in granting such broad discretionary powers is to permit my Trustees to administer the trust property and make distributions substantially as I might have done if living, having in mind circumstances as they exist from time to time. My principal purposes are that my husband be able to maintain the approximate standard of living maintained during my lifetime; that the expenses of educating my children and grandchildren be provided for, including providing or assisting in providing them with as fine an education as their efforts and abilities warrant; and that additional funds be available to my children and grandchildren to make their lives more comfortable and financially more secure.

2. Applicable Provisions for Disclaimer Trust. If this trust receives property as a result of a qualified disclaimer by my husband as provided in Article VIII hereof, and if he does not also disclaim his interest under this trust, all of the following provisions shall apply. If my husband predeceases me, or if he disclaims his interest under this trust, this trust shall be administered as if my husband had predeceased me.

3. Discretionary Income to Spouse and Children. Recognizing that this trust is for the primary benefit of my husband during his life, the Trustees shall, in their sole discretion, pay to or for the benefit of my husband and children, or the children of any deceased child of mine, so much of the net income of the trust as the Trustees may deem advisable, in order to provide for their reasonable comfort, support, health, maintenance and education, whether public, private or special. However, the Trustees shall not be required to equalize any such payments among the beneficiaries hereof. Any income not so distributed during any trust year shall be accumulated, added to trust principal, and invested and reinvested under the authority hereof.

4. Encroachment for Husband, Children and Grandchildren. During the lifetime of my husband, the Trustees are further authorized to make such encroachments as they may consider necessary, in their sole and unlimited discretion, to provide for the support, maintenance, education (public, private, or special), and health needs (including the cost of medical, dental, psychiatric, nursing, hospital, surgical and convalescent care) of any of my husband, children, or the children of any deceased child of mine. However, this provision for encroachment shall not be construed by the Trustees to provide for luxuries or unnecessary comforts, nor shall it include authority for advancements for investments in business opportunities. Encroachments for my husband and any of my children or grandchildren shall be charged against the total principal of this trust and not against the individual share or shares of any beneficiary.

5. Outright Distributions Upon Death of Spouse and Children. Upon the death of my husband, or upon my death if she predeceases me, the Trustee or Executor, as the case may be, shall divide the then remaining trust corpus, and all accumulated income, into equal shares, one share for each of my children to continue in trust for the benefit of each respective child for the duration of their respective lives. Upon the death of each child, his or her trust shall terminate and the corpus and accumulated income shall be distributed outright and free of trust to my deceased child's children in equal shares, per stirpes. If any of my grandchildren shall be under the age of twenty-one (21) at the time of termination, then their respective share shall continue in trust until that child reaches age twenty-one (21) at which time the trust will terminate and vest in the beneficiary free of trust. Should a child of mine die without issue then the trust corpus shall continue in trust for the benefit of my other child during his or her lifetime and upon his or her death the trust shall terminate and distributed to my grandchildren, in equal shares, per stirpes.

ARTICLE VI: PROVISIONS OF MARITAL TRUST

The Marital Trust shall be administered in accordance with the following special provisions:

1. All Income to Spouse. I direct the Trustees to pay the entire net income from the Marital Trust to my husband, GENE H. SMITH, during his life, with payments to be made at least quarterly each year.

2. Encroachments for Spouse. At any time during my husband's life, the Trustees are expressly authorized, in their unlimited discretion, to encroach upon the principal of the trust herein created for the personal comfort and support of my husband, in order adequately and properly to provide her with suitable maintenance in the manner to which she has become accustomed; to pay her medical, dental, psychiatric, nursing, hospital, surgical, and convalescent care expenses, over and above the amount she is able to pay out of her income; and to meet any other emergencies which may arise in her own personal financial affairs. The Trustees are authorized to exercise this right of encroachment when, in their opinion, a necessity for such encroachment exists. The discretion of the Trustees in this regard shall not be open to question; and in any settlement, the Trustees shall be given full credit for the amount of all such encroachments as proper expenditures.

THIS IS PAGE SIX OF MY LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT: Patricia C. Smith

3. Marital Deduction Intent. I intend that the Marital Trust shall qualify for the marital deduction under Section 2056 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), and any other applicable state law, and the provisions of this trust shall be interpreted in accordance with this intent.

4. Distribution to Family Trust at Death of Spouse. Upon the death of my husband, the Trustees shall terminate this trust and cause its principal to pour-over into the Family Trust established in my Will as an additional contribution to be used in accordance with its provisions; provided, however, that accrued or accumulated income shall be paid to my husband's estate.

5. Outright Distributions to Grandchildren at Death of Spouse and Children. In accordance with paragraph 4 above, upon the death of my husband, this trust shall terminate. All accrued or accumulated income shall be paid to my husband's estate. The Trustees transfer the corpus of the Marital Trust to be administered as part of the Family Trust to be held in trust for the benefit of my children and grandchildren according to the terms of that trust, until each such grandchild shall have attained the required age for outright distribution.

6. Election to Qualify for Marital Deduction. The provision of the Marital Trust have been drafted so as to qualify this trust for the federal estate tax and Tennessee inheritance tax marital deduction. Accordingly, my Executor shall, in his absolute discretion, decide whether to elect under Section 2056(b)(7) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), to so qualify this trust, or any fractional portion thereof. If the state in which I am domiciled at the time of my death allows an estate or inheritance tax marital deduction for terminable interests, my Executor shall also make an election under the applicable state statute to claim a marital deduction for such fractional portion of this trust as he deems advisable. The federal and state elections shall be separate and need not be equal in amount.

If my Executor should elect to qualify only a fractional portion of the Marital Trust for the marital deduction, the Trustees shall be authorized to divide this trust into separate shares during my husband's life for purposes of administrative convenience, which division shall be based upon the fair market value of all trust assets at the time of the division. In such an event, the Trustees shall pay all of the net income from both shares of this trust to my husband during his life; and the Trustees, after taking into consideration the estate tax consequences to my husband's estate, shall be authorized to make encroachments against either or both the qualifying and the non-qualifying shares of the trust for the benefit of my husband.

Generally, I anticipate that my Executor will elect to minimize the federal and state death taxes payable by my estate. However, I would expect that some consideration be given to the death taxes payable by my husband's estate upon his death, especially if he dies prior to the time the election is made. The decision of my Executor, or his successor, with respect to the exercise of the election shall be conclusive on all affected persons.

7. Power of Appointment for State Law. If the state in which I am domiciled at the time of my death does not allow a marital deduction for terminable interests, I give to my husband, if he survives me, a power of appointment over such portion of the principal of this trust as is necessary to qualify for the maximum marital deduction for state estate or inheritance tax purposes, after taking into consideration all other property passing from me to my husband which qualifies for the marital deduction. This power of appointment shall be exercisable by my husband by specific reference in his will, and may be exercisable in favor of any person or persons, including my husband's estate or the creditors of his estate. To the extent my husband fails to exercise this power of appointment, the property subject to the power shall pass to the Family Trust established in my Will. In the event this power of appointment is required, the Trustees shall have the authority to separate the portion of the Marital Trust over which my husband shall have a power of appointment and the remaining portion into separate shares for administrative convenience. If such separate shares are created, the Trustees shall have the absolute authority to allocate assets to each share, and make encroachments against either or both shares, in such manner and amounts as they deem most appropriate.

8. Requirement of Productive Property. If the Marital Trust, or any fractional portion thereof, qualifies for the marital deduction allowable under the Code, my Will is to be construed accordingly. Notwithstanding any provision in my Will to the contrary, during the life of my husband, the Trustees shall have no discretion or power which would disqualify this trust, or the portion so elected, for the marital deduction. Any power to invest in or retain unproductive property held in trust shall be subject to my husband's power to require that such property be converted into productive property within a reasonable time following a written request by him. Also, any power to allocate receipts and disbursements between principal and income shall not be exercised so as to deny my husband income to which he would otherwise be entitled under applicable rules of law.

9. Reimbursement for Estate Taxes. If my Executor should elect to qualify all or a fractional portion of this trust for the federal or state estate tax marital deduction, and if such election results in the inclusion of all or part of the trust property in my husband's estate, the Trustees are authorized to pay to the executor of my husband's estate, out of the principal of this trust, an amount equal to the excess of all federal and state death taxes payable by reason of my husband's death over the death taxes which would have been payable at his death if none of the trust property had been included in his estate. The final determination of the amount due hereunder shall be based upon the values as finally determined for federal estate tax purposes in my husband's estate. My husband may waive his estate's right to payment under this paragraph by a provision in his will in which he specifically refers to the right to payment hereby given to her estate.

ARTICLE VII: PROVISIONS FOR ALL TRUSTS

The following provisions shall be applicable with respect to any and all trusts created herein:

1. Spendthrift Provision. The interest of any beneficiary under any trust created in my Will shall not be grantable, transferable, or otherwise assignable by anticipation, except to the extent specifically provided herein, nor shall such interest be subject to the claims of any creditors of any beneficiary; and, except as provided in this paragraph, the Trustees shall continue to pay such income or principal, as the case may be, directly to or for such beneficiary, notwithstanding any transfer, assignment, conveyance, or action by creditors. No spouse, or person claiming to be the spouse, of any beneficiary of my Will shall have any right or claim to the principal or the income of any trust, except as may be expressly provided in my Will. No part of either principal or income shall be subject to attachment, garnishment, execution, receivership or trustee's process; and, in the event that any such process shall be served upon the Trustees, the right of any beneficiary (except my husband as beneficiary of the Marital Trust), in respect of whose interest such process is attempted, to receive either income or principal shall terminate until such process shall be released and discharged. Provided, however, that the Trustees may make advances from either principal or income for the support, maintenance, health and education of such beneficiary as the Trustees, in their discretion, may deem wise and proper under the circumstances. Notwithstanding any provision of my Will to the contrary, nothing contained herein shall be construed as permitting the Trustees of the Marital Trust to withhold income from my husband; and any provision so construed shall be null and void.

2. Payments to Third Parties for Benefit of Beneficiary. The Trustees are authorized to make any payment of income or principal to third parties for the benefit of any beneficiaries who may become entitled thereto, or directly to such beneficiaries, without, in any event, requiring the qualification of a legal guardian, unless, in the sole discretion of the Trustees, it should be determined that the appointment and qualification of a guardian in a particular circumstance would be desirable.

3. Discretionary Termination. If, in the opinion of the Trustees, any trust created herein, or any share thereof, shall at any time be of a size which, in their sole judgment, makes it inadvisable or unnecessary to continue such trust, notwithstanding anything contained herein, the Trustees shall have the power to terminate such trust and distribute the trust principal and accumulated income to or for the benefit of the income beneficiaries. However, no Trustee who is an income beneficiary shall have the right to participate in any decision to so terminate a trust.

4. No Bond Required of Trustee. The Trustees and their successors shall serve without bond and shall not be required to file any accountings in any court of record, but shall account for their transactions to each beneficiary, or to the guardian, conservator or similar legal representative of a beneficiary, at least annually.

ARTICLE VIII: GENERAL WILL PROVISIONS

Qualified Disclaimer. Any person entitled to receive property under the terms of my Will may disclaim all or any portion of the property otherwise passing to him or her by complying with the statutory requirements of Section 2518 of the Code, and the federal regulations thereunder, and Section 31-1-103 of Tennessee Code Annotated, as these statutory provisions presently exist or may subsequently be amended. Unless otherwise provided in my Will, such disclaimed property shall be distributed pursuant to the terms of my Will as if the disclaiming person had predeceased me.

Disposition of Property Disclaimed by Spouse. In the event my husband disclaims all or any portion of the property passing to him under the terms of this Will, such disclaimed property shall be added to the Family Trust established in my Will, to be held, administered, invested and distributed in accordance with its provisions.

Presumption of Survivorship. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any statute or legal presumption, and unless otherwise provided in connection with any specific bequest contained in my Will, should my husband and I die under such conditions that there is sufficient evidence to determine which of us died first, or that we died other than simultaneously, all of my property passing under my Will shall be disposed of as if I survived my husband.

ARTICLE IX: PAYMENT OF DEBTS, EXPENSES AND TAXES

Payment of Debts and Expenses. I authorize my Executor to pay my debts, funeral expenses, and the expenses incurred in the administration of my estate.

THIS IS PAGE TWELVE OF MY LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT: Patricia C Smith

Contribution by Spouse Waived. In the event that my Executor should satisfy any debt of mine under circumstances which create a right of contribution from my husband, I authorize my Executor, in his sole discretion, to waive the right to seek contribution from my husband on behalf of my estate.

Apportionment of Payment of Death Taxes. I direct my Executor to pay all estate, inheritance and other death taxes and duties, and any penalties or interest thereon, imposed on my estate by reason of my death by the United States government, any state or subdivision thereof, or any foreign government or subdivision thereof, with respect to any property required to be included in my gross estate for the purpose of such taxes, whether such property passes under my Will or outside of my Will, and I direct that any taxes so paid shall be charged as follows:

1. If my husband survives me:

a. First, against that portion of my residuary estate, if any, passing to the portion of the Marital Trust established in this Will which my Executor shall not have elected to qualify for the marital deduction;

b. Second, to the extend such portion is insufficient, out of that portion of my residuary estate, if any, passing to the Family Trust established in this Will; and

c. Last, out of that portion of my residuary estate passing to the remaining portion of the Marital Trust.

2. If my husband does not survive me, against my residuary estate.

ARTICLE X: GENERAL FIDUCIARY POWERS

Authorization of Fiduciaries. Without diminishing or restricting the powers vested by law or elsewhere in my Will, and subject to all of the provisions of my Will, I authorize and empower my Executor and the Trustees (my "fiduciaries"), without having to obtain any judicial authorization or approval, and in the application of their best judgment and discretion on behalf of the beneficiaries of my Will, to exercise all or any of the following powers:

1. Incorporation of State Law Powers. I authorize my fiduciaries to exercise the powers specifically enumerated in Section 35-50-110, Tennessee Code Annotated. These powers, as set out in this statute on the date of the execution of my Will, are granted, notwithstanding that this statute may have been amended or repealed at the time of my death.

2. Power to Allocate Assets. My fiduciaries shall, in their sole discretion, make reasonable allocations of the property comprising my estate in satisfying any bequest made herein, in allocating the residue of my estate as herein directed, in funding any trust created herein, or in dividing any trust into shares. My Executor shall not, however, exercise the discretion given him in this paragraph in a manner that will result in a loss of, or decrease in, the marital deduction otherwise allowable to my estate in determining either the federal estate tax or Tennessee inheritance tax liability of my estate.

3. Distributions to Incapacitated Beneficiaries. If, pursuant to this Will, or any trust established herein, any property shall be payable outright to a person who is a minor, or is under any other legal, mental or physical disability, my fiduciaries shall have the power, exercisable in their absolute discretion and without court approval, either to defer payment of such property, or to pay such property, in whole or in part, to such person, to a parent, guardian, or conservator of such person, to a custodian for such person under a Gifts to Minors Act, or to any adult with whom such person shall reside. The recipient of such property shall not be required to furnish bond or file any accountings with respect to such property, unless my fiduciaries should direct otherwise; and the receipt of such property by the recipient shall discharge my fiduciaries from any further responsibility or liability with respect to such property. If my fiduciaries shall elect to defer payment of any such property, I authorize my fiduciaries to hold such property as a trustee for the benefit of such person, with all the powers given to my fiduciaries in this Will and by law, and to pay or apply so much, all, or none of the income and principal of such property for the benefit of such person as my fiduciaries shall deem advisable. When such person attains capacity, whether legal, mental or physical, the balance of such property then remaining shall be distributed to him or her. If such person shall die before attaining capacity, the balance of such property remaining at his or her death shall be distributed to his or her estate.

4. Tax Elections and Consents. In addition to all other powers, and notwithstanding any other provision of my Will, my Executor shall have full discretion to claim the deductions allowable to my estate for debts, expenses, taxes, claims and losses, either for federal income tax or estate tax purposes, in such manner as my Executor shall deem advisable, in order to minimize the total state and federal income and death taxes payable by my estate or as a result of my death. Such allocation may be made regardless of whether its effect is to favor one beneficiary or class of beneficiaries over another, or whether such expenses shall be charged to income or principal for distribution purposes. In addition, my fiduciaries shall also be authorized, in their sole and absolute discretion, to take the following actions: to consent or oppose, as a shareholder, to any election by any corporation pursuant to the provisions of any federal or state tax statutes or regulations; to consent that any gifts made by my husband shall be considered as made one-half (½) by me for federal or state gift tax purposes; and to join with my husband in the filing of any joint federal or state income tax returns for any period or periods prior to my death for which I have not filed such returns, and to pay a ratable share or all of any taxes due thereon, or due on any joint income tax return actually filed for any period prior to my death.

5. Investment Powers. Without limiting the discretionary authority granted to my fiduciaries by statute, and subject to all of the provisions of my Will, the Trustees shall also have the authority to invest, in their discretion, in certificates of deposit, mutual funds, money market and liquid asset funds, and other similar short-term liquid investments that may be invested in pooled funds or otherwise. In addition, the Trustees are authorized to retain assets distributed to the Trustees, even though such assets may constitute an over concentration in one or more similar investments. Further, the Trustees shall have the authority to make investments in unproductive property, if such investments will inure to the benefit of one or more beneficiaries of a trust, and if such investments are made with the specific written consent of all of the income beneficiaries of the trust; provided, however, that no such investments shall be made with respect to the assets of any trust, or any portion of a trust, qualifying for the marital deduction, to the extent that such investments would result in a loss of this deduction.

6. Payment of Fiduciary Expenses. My fiduciaries shall be specifically authorized, in their sole discretion, to employ and to pay the compensation of such agents, accountants, custodians, experts and counsel, legal, investment or otherwise, as my fiduciaries shall deem advisable, and to delegate discretionary powers to, and rely upon information furnished by, such individuals or entities. Compensation paid for such services, as well as other administrative expenses and compensation paid to my fiduciaries for their services, shall be paid out of estate or trust assets in such manner as my fiduciaries shall deem advisable.

THIS IS PAGE SIXTEEN OF MY LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT: Patricia C Smith

7. Administration of Trusts by Executor. During the period of administration of my estate, my Executor shall be fully authorized and empowered to exercise all of the powers and duties of the Trustees; and I direct that she shall do so in order that payments of income or principal for the benefit of the beneficiaries of my Will shall not be delayed pending the administration of my estate.

8. Administration of Real Property by Executor. All real property in which I may have any interest at the time of my death shall be deemed to be part of my probate estate for purposes of administering my estate, and as such, shall be subject to the control of my Executor during the administration of my estate.

ARTICLE XI: MEANING OF TERMS

Throughout this Will, the masculine gender shall be deemed to include the feminine, and vice versa, and the singular shall include the plural, and vice versa. Whenever a provision has been made in my Will for any child to take his or her deceased parent's share, in the event such child is also deceased, it is intended that his or her share shall pass to his or her issue, per stirpes. Whenever the words "child," "children," "grandchildren," "issue," or words of similar meaning are used in my Will, they are intended to include adopted as well as natural born children and grandchildren. The term "Code" as used in my Will shall refer to the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, unless otherwise indicated.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand to this my Will, consisting of SEVENTEEN (17) pages, each of which bears my initials or signature, at Nashville, Tennessee, this 2nd day of December, 2003.
